SEA COAST ECHO

Mississippi Attorney General Jim Hood on Thursday announced that he will file suit against the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. According to a release from the AG's office, the move is to "require the federal government to pay for the extensive environmental and economic damage to the Mississippi Gulf Coast caused by the repeated and lengthy openings of the Bonnet Carré` Spillway in 2019." The lawsuit will be filed in the name of the State of Mississippi and also seek to "protect the Gulf Coast from future damage by requiring the Corps to adopt updated and scientifically sound methods of flood control and by requiring the Corps to consider the impacts of spillway openings on Mississippi," the release states. According to the release, the state is required by federal law to give the Corps 60 days' notice prior to filing a lawsuit. "Mississippi should not be the federal government's dumping ground for polluted flood waters," Hood said in the release. "Our State's environment and economy must be considered and protected just as the Corps protects the environment and economy of our neighboring states." This year, the Bonnet Carré` Spillway was opened for 123 days and discharged almost 10 trillion gallons of Mississippi River water, the release states. According to the Institute for Marine Mammal Studies, the "fresh water of the Mississippi River carries with it industrial pollutants from 31 states and two Canadian provinces." "The spillway opening has destroyed the State's oyster reefs, decimated the crab and shrimp catch, and killed more dolphins than the 2019 BP Oil Spill,"

More than 200 of Hancock County's senior citizens on Wednesday — decked out in their favorite western wear — attended the 7th annual Hancock County Senior Citizens Prom at the Bay St. Louis Community Center. "I think everyone had a great time," Hancock County Senior Prom committee member Arlene Johnson said. "We had people there I've never seen before." This year's theme was "Boot Scootin' Boogie" and featured a complimentary meal, goodie bags, door prizes, line-dancing and much more. During the event, committee members also crowned the king and queen of the prom. This year's royalty was King Douglas Michael from Woodland Village Nursing Center in Diamondhead and Queen Barbara Durham from Dunbar Village in Bay St. Louis. As in previous years, students from St. Stanislaus and Our Lady Academy volunteered their services and dancing skills. Students from St. Stanislaus included: Austin Schruoff, Michael Cabell, Jake Whitney, Prentice Wallace, Ethan McNeill, Keaton Cunningham, Tyler Koenenn, Aaron Rush, Cole Fletcher, Andrew Dufrene, Andrew Mayer, Thomas Mortillaro, William Trapani, Alex West, Marcus Favre, and Michael Burns.

Rating Bureau conducts water shuttle in Hancock County

This week, the rating bureau conducted a water shuttle in northern area of fire district.

SEA COAST ECHO

This week, the Mississippi State Rating Bureau conducted a water shuttle, Hancock County Emergency Management Agency Director/Fire Coordinator Brian Adam announced in a release on Thursday. The water shuttle was conducted in an "attempt to improve the fire insurance rating in the northern portion of the Post 58 Fire District," the release states. "By doing this, it shows the rating bureau that the northern area of the district can provide enough water to meet the standards for a lower rating, which in turn will help homeowners receive lower insurance costs," Adam said in the release. "The fire departments had to demonstrate pumping 750 gallons of water per minute and have a continuous water supply to keep the test going and valid for one hour. There were 11 tanker trucks and five pumper trucks that participated." The following departments participated in the water shuttle: Post 58 VFD, Fenton VFD, Kiln VFD, Leetown VFD, Steephollow VFD, Lizana VFD, CRTC Fire Department, Hancock County Board of Supervisors, Hancock County Fire Marshal's Office, Harrison County Fire Service, and Pearl River County Fire Service. "We would like to thank all of the fire departments involved for helping with the water shuttle," Adam said.

Thad Anderson served as emcee and music was provided by Kody Lawrence and The Misfits.

Admission to the prom was free, but seniors were asked to bring a non-perishable food donation to benefit the Hancock County Food Pantry.

Senior Maxie Frierson said she enjoyed the prom, the food, and the dancing. She also won a gift card during the door prize giveaway, which she said will help her purchase food items.

Frierson said the prom is good for seniors because it gives them the opportunity to socialize.

"They can see people their own age," she said. "It's really great to do something like this."

Emmaline Burton said she really enjoyed the prom.

"It was nice looking and everyone had a wonderful time," she said. "My favorite part was the music. Everybody came together and talked and laughed together. You also see people you haven't seen for a long time. Arlene had it fixed up very nice and she always does a good job."

Raechil Conrad also said she enjoyed the music, line dancers, and food.

"I keep going back to the prom because of the fun," Conrad said. "It's a good time to get together and meet other seniors because it's important to socialize."

Eli Madrigal said the prom gives him a chance to see friends he doesn't get to see throughout the year.

"I liked the music," he said. "They played a lot of songs from teenage years. I like that they get us all together. Some of us don't have the means to travel or communicate with one another."

Jimmie Scott said he attends the prom every year.

"I enjoy it," he said. "I come from a large family and being around all kinds of people is very rewarding to me."

Scott said attending the prom makes him feel young again.

"I can still get around, dance, and do the things I like to do," Scott said. "Life doesn't stop because you're a senior, there's still enjoyment to be had until can't go no more."

Anna Pavolini said she enjoyed herself and spending time with her friends.

"I enjoyed myself and dancing with Bill," she said. "Yesterday, I got all dressed up and I looked pretty." Johnson said that if anyone lost or found prom pictures to contact her at 228-467-9292.

Historical society's 25th annual cemetery tour among Hancock County's scheduled Halloween happenings

BY GEOFF BELCHER
NEWS EDITOR

There's a whole host of ghostly activities coming up in Hancock County in the next few days to celebrate Halloween, including the Hancock County Historical Society's 25th annual Cedar Rest Cemetery Tour.

This year's tour is scheduled for Halloween, Thursday, Oct. 31, from 5-7 p.m., at the Cedar Rest Cemetery in Bay St. Louis.

Members of the historical society started the tour years ago after the cemetery had been vandalized.

"We discussed what we could do and started a group watch," society Executive Director Charles Gray said last year. "Then we decided to dress as local characters."

During the tour, several members of the historical society will dressed as the ghosts of former Hancock County residents who are buried in the cemetery. The "ghosts" will then tell tour participants about the lives of those people they represent and what life was like in Hancock County when they were still breathing.

This year's "ghosts" will include:

- Katherine M. "Kate" Loblano, 1871-1921. She was born in Bay St. Louis. Her father, George Maynard, was the town marshall. Her house was eventually donated to the historical society and serves as its headquarters and library/museum.

- Frank J. Loblano, 1870-1935. He was born in Plaquemines Parish and

The Hancock County Historical Society will host the 25th annual Cedar Rest Cemetery Tour on Thursday, Oct. 31, from 5-7 p.m., at the Cedar Rest Cemetery in Bay St. Louis. Admission is free, but donations will be accepted. After the tour, everyone is invited to the Loblano House around the corner from the cemetery at 208 Cue St. for hot dogs, punch, cookies and other treats.

was a descendant of one of Jean Lafitte's pirate captains. He was famous for developing the process of cultivating oyster reefs, which is still used today. He was also the husband of Kate Loblano.

- John Osoinach, 1864-1958. Osoinach was a prominent businessman in Bay St. Louis. He built a large general merchandise store on South Beach Boulevard. On the second floor of the store was located the Opera House, an elegant theatre where many of the best traveling stock companies of the day performed before the advent of movies.

- Annie Graham, 1906-1991. Annie Richtner Adam Graham was born in New York City in 1906 to poor German immigrants who put her up for adoption. She arrived in Bay St. Louis on the orphan train in 1908 and lived here all her life, working at the Peerless Oyster Cannery and the Bell Telephone Company.

- Katrina Overall McDonald, 1896-1985. Katrina McDonald was a native of Tennessee and graduated from Vanderbilt University. She married CC McDonald in 1919 and was an important community activist, serving on the Bay-Waveland and Hancock County school boards, the state-wide Parent Teachers Assoc. (PTA), state welfare board and the Girl Scouts of America.

- Ed Varin, 1894-1958. Varin was a native of Bay St. Louis and served in the U.S. Navy during World War I. He also served as a police officer in the Bay, working the night shift, patrolling Main Street and Beach Boulevard. He died in 1958 at the King's Daughter and Sons Hospital on Carroll Avenue.

- Dr. Cyrus M. Shipp, 1880-1964. Dr. Shipp was a graduate of Tulane Medical School and served Hancock County as a public health doctor. He is remembered for his work to bring malaria under control by supervising drainage canals and improvements of sanitation.

- George Arbo, 1845-1907. He was a native of Canada, but immigrated here to build a sawmill. The Arbo Sawmill was located on Joe's Bayou in Cedar Point where the Hollywood Casino is today.

Admission is free, but donations will be graciously accepted.

After the tour, everyone is invited to the Loblano

House around the corner from the cemetery at 208 Cue St. for hot dogs, punch, cookies and other treats.

Among other upcoming Halloween events:

- The Misfits Street Krewzers will host a Trunk or Treat at the historic Bay St. Louis Depot today, Saturday, Oct. 26, from 4-8 p.m. Prizes will be awarded for best costume for both children and adults, as well as Best Decorated car or truck. Everyone is welcome.

- Bayside Baptist Church will host Trunk or Treat this Sunday, Oct. 27 at 5:30 pm. There will be a hot dog supper, drinks, a bag for each child to decorate and then the Trunk or Treat. Instead of a cake walk, there will be a brownie walk this year

- Shoreline Park Baptist Church, located at 10121 Kiln-Waveland Cutoff Rd., Bay St. Louis, will host its annual Fall Festival from 5-7:30 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 31. The event is free and everyone is welcome. There will be food, games, hay rides, raffles and vendor booths. Parents must accompany children.

Pediatric flu vaccine now available at all county health departments

SEA COAST ECHO

The Mississippi State Department of Health (MSDH) is reporting its first laboratory-confirmed case of influenza for the 2019-2020 flu season. The case was reported in a child under 18 years of age.

While flu cases have been diagnosed and treated by healthcare providers throughout the state already this season, this is the first case confirmed in the MSDH Public Health Laboratory, detected through the Influenza-Like Illness (ILI) Sentinel Surveillance System.

"While last year's flu season was not particularly severe, there were still 116 pediatric flu deaths nationwide, including one child here in Mississippi," said MSDH State Epidemiologist Dr. Paul Byers. "Nationwide, the 2017-2018 flu season killed 183 children – three of whom were in Mississippi – and an estimated 80,000 adults.

Influenza is a serious illness that should not be taken lightly."

Dr. Byers said that flu season can occur as early as November and as late as March in Mississippi, but usually peaks anywhere from December through February.

Individual flu cases are not reported to MSDH, but the agency monitors flu activity through the ILI System, made up of healthcare providers in Mississippi who report the percentage of patients with flu-like symptoms to a statewide database. Providers participating in the system also submit respiratory samples for flu testing to the MSDH lab. State health officials use this information to determine the presence and spread of flu throughout the state.

"We recommend getting vaccinated now before we reach peak flu activity. Influenza vaccine is especially important for young children, pregnant women, those over 65, and those with underlying health problems," he said. "Flu vaccine is the best way to protect both children and adults from serious complications such as hospitalization, and in many cases, death."

Pediatric flu shots are now available at all Mississippi State Department of Health (MSDH) county clinics. Seasonal flu vaccination is recommended for anyone ages six months and older to prevent the spread of flu, and more importantly, save lives.

Those 18 and under who are eligible for the Vaccines for Children program can receive a flu vaccination for $10. Insurance, Medicaid and Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP) is accepted for children's flu shots.

Adults who are underinsured or uninsured and who meet certain high-risk criteria qualify for an adult flu vaccination at MSDH county health department clinics. Flu shots for insured adults are now widely available through private physicians, pharmacies and retail centers.

Flu symptoms include fever, cough, sore throat, muscle and body aches, and fatigue.

Most people recover from the flu without complications, but nationwide there are up to 200,000 hospitalizations from flu each year.

While vaccination is the best protection, basic infection control measures can also reduce the spread of flu and should be taken whether or not individuals are vaccinated. These measures include covering your mouth when coughing and sneezing, staying at home when you or your children are sick, and washing your hands frequently.

To locate a county health department clinic in your area or for more information on flu, visit the MSDH website at www.HealthyMS.com/flu. Follow MSDH by email and social media at HealthyMS.com/connect.

Bay St. Louis Councilman Jeffrey Reed attends MS Municipal League conference

SEA COAST ECHO

Jeffrey J. Reed, city councilman for Bay St. Louis Ward 3, recently attended the Mississippi Municipal League's 2019 Small Town Conference in Tupelo.

The purpose of the conference was to give municipal elected officials -- particularly those from the smaller cities and towns -- the opportunity to meet together and share ideas and challenges unique to their respective communities.

The conference fol-which attendees were able to choose one of four educational tracks to follow throughout the conference.

The tracks were developed in hopes of providing participants the options of following a guided schedule of sequential classes which each build upon previous information to conclude with a deeper understanding of the respective topics.

"The Small Town Conference is an excellent opportunity for officials from municipalities of all sizes to gather together for the purpose of exchanging knowledge and ideas," MML President Mayor Billy Hewes of Gulfport said, "but it serves a particular benefit for those officials from our smaller towns by shining a light on the issues and solutions that are best fitted for our smaller communities.

"With over 50 percent of Mississippi citizens living within municipal limits, residents across the state should be heartened to know that their officials desire to be as informed, educated and prepared as possible in order to best serve their constituents.

Hunter Safety

It's that time of year that we take to the fields, woodlands, and waters not only to experience the excitement of hunting, but also to enjoy the beauty of Mississippi's outdoors. The increasing criticism of today's hunting problems points directly at the misuse of the privilege of hunting. Tomorrow's privileges may rely on our ability to correct such misuse through education and example. Hunter education is a step in the right direction.

Mississippi's hunter education programs promote responsible, ethical conduct, emphasize the importance of wildlife management, and encourage the safe handling of firearms and ammunition. Students of hunter education courses develop a better understanding of their responsibilities to the wildlife resource, the landowner, other hunters, and themselves. In addition, statistics prove that the number of hunting accidents is significantly lower for individuals who have completed a hunter education course.

In 1988, a law was passed by the Mississippi Legislature that requires all persons born on or after January 1, 1972, to complete a hunter education course prior to purchasing a hunting license.

A course in hunter education provides one with many facts about hunting such as hunter ethics and responsibility, the history of firearms, firearms handling and safety, accident prevention, ammunition safety, ballistic and range, hypothermia, marksmanship, safe shooting zones, water safety, and wildlife identification. Hunter education also teaches the importance of wildlife management and conservation, as well as game care, specialty hunting (muzzle loading, bow hunting, and handguns), first aid, and survival.

Written laws cannot ensure the safety of all hunters; therefore, each hunter should follow an unwritten code of ethics. Hunters' codes are based on respect for wildlife, the land we live on, and others' rights, as well as for themselves.

Irresponsible hunters give a bad public image of all hunters. There are many things a responsible hunter can do to improve their image. Hunters should always leave fences and gates as they found them. When livestock is allowed to get loose, the landowner ends up doing additional work. Thoughtless use of vehicles often damages fields and roads. A good sportsman would never leave litter behind. Also, never practice your aim by shooting bottles, insulators, or road signs. These actions cause damage and debris that other people have to correct or pay for. Always be respectful and try to leave conditions better than you found them.

Wicker Calls out House Impeachment Inquiry

Fairness and Due Process Underpin Our Constitutional System

Speaker Pelosi's decision earlier this month to use a press conference to open a "formal impeachment inquiry" raises doubts that she and her Democratic House colleagues are prepared to conduct their proceedings fairly. Instead of keeping with more than a century of precedents, the people's house is meeting secretly behind closed doors and denying the president of the United States one of the cornerstones of the American constitution – due process.

I recently joined over 40 of my Republican colleagues in the Senate in introducing a resolution calling on House Democrats to follow precedents and constitutional norms in their investigation. Unless the House changes course, members' actions will continue to create a damaging and pointless squabble.

From the Senate
by Roger Wicker
U.S. Senator

HISTORY, PRECEDENTS, AND PROCEDURES

The House has impeached only two presidents – Andrew Johnson and Bill Clinton – in our nation's history. Richard Nixon was the subject of an inquiry, and his impeachment and removal would have likely occurred had he not resigned in 1974.

Impeachment inquiries are so rare because they are so serious. The 435 duly-elected members of the House should deliberate with a sense of the gravity of their undertakings, as they did in all three of those cases. Congressmen should make their cases to the American people and then decide, in public, whether or not investigating and sending articles to the Senate would be the best course of action.

The current process has been flawed from the beginning. The norm of a formal impeachment investigation starting with a debate and a vote by the full House of Representatives has been dropped. It has been replaced by ad hoc and undemocratic methods.

This year's impeachment inquiry bears little resemblance to those of the past. During the investigations of Presidents Richard Nixon and Bill Clinton, the House Judiciary Committee adopted rules of procedure to provide due process and ensure fairness. These presidents – one Republican and one Democrat – were allowed representation by counsel. That counsel was permitted to come to hearings and depositions, present evidence, call witnesses, and look at all the evidence.

Today the accusations against President Trump are coming from an anonymous source. Interviews are being conducted in secret with limited access even for Republican members of the House who sit on the relevant committees. Important procedural minority rights are being taken away. President Trump deserves the same fairness as his predecessors.

Be Wary of the Complex Pros and Cons of Medicare Plans

Along with crunchy leaves and pumpkins, fall brings a slew of advertising for insurance plans that fill the gaps in Medicare coverage.

Misleading and confusing messages continue to reach beneficiaries and those nearing Medicare age. To take myself as an example, I've received an invitation to a Medicare Advantage plan informational meeting. I've gotten a solicitation from my physician's medical group offering a "zero-cost, no obligation way to review coverage" online or over the phone. The "review" is likely to bring a sales pitch for a plan.

A mailer from another plan offered "a friendly, money-saving Medicare Advantage Plan" that seemed to promise the moon: savings of up to $2,380 a year, maximum dental coverage of $1,500, and a $750 hearing aid allowance, a drop in the proverbial bucket considering the average cost of two hearing aids is about $4,500. One seller seemed to think I was on both Medicare and Medicaid and pitched a "special needs plan." Since I wasn't a candidate for such an arrangement, was the insurer trying to get in the door to sell a regular Medicare Advantage plan?

Too many people fall for those kinds of pitches. Shopping to cover the gaps in Medicare is a task no one should take lightly. The stakes are too high.

Medicare is a fine program, but it was never meant to cover everything. It's based on the old Blue Cross model of insurance common in the 1960s where the company paid 80 percent of the medical bill and the patient paid 20 percent. An industry selling Medigap policies sprang up to cover the 20 percent, and deceptive sales practices plagued the business for years.

Congress ended that and standardized the coverage into 10 plans (11 today, including a high-deductible plan) that give people a broad choice for covering what Medicare does not pay. If people bought Plan F or Plan C as their supplemental insurance, they were pretty much covered for most illnesses.

Beginning next year, however, new Medicare beneficiaries – those who turn 65 on or after January 1, 2020 – won't be allowed to buy Plan F or C. Congress wants more beneficiaries in Medicare Advantage plans, so it eliminated the option to buy the most comprehensive plans. Lawmakers wanted seniors to pay more for their care.

They can still buy Plan G, which offers the same protection as F except that it doesn't cover the Medicare Part B deductible, which is $183 next year. People already on Medicare can still buy Plans F or C.

The goal is to push more people into Medicare Advantage plans, a private alternative that is a step toward privatizing the entire program. To move the process along, the government has overpaid insurers to provide the care, which enables them to offer inducements to join. Considering that

The Our Lady Academy Crescents swept Belmont in the Class I state semi-final on Thursday at Mississippi State University to advance to their 17th state final appearance since 2001.

The Crescents (36-5) defeated Belmont 25-10, 25-2, and 25-15 en route to the victory. The Crescents have lost just once in Mississippi in the regular season outside of tournament play in 2019. That loss occurred on October 3rd to Class 4A state finalist Vancleave whom OLA beat on August 29th.

Rebecca Walk, a USA commit, led the Crescents with 27 kills, four blocks and 11 digs followed by Ashley Bulot with 19 points, five kills and 16 assists.

Camille Cottone tallied 11 points, four aces, eight kills and nine digs while Kate Montjoy chipped in seven points, four aces and seven digs. Chloe Cornell added six digs while Kate Funk had 16 assists and Natalie Garcia chipped in five points. Alma Hearin finished with five points and five digs.

OLA defeated Madison-St. Joseph 25-13, 25-15, and 25-12 on Tuesday in a second round matchup. Bulot recorded 11 points, three aces, 20 assists and five digs while Walk

On Tuesday evening, the Bay High Lady Tigers beat Northeast Jones 25-16, 25-22, 18-25, and 25-18 to advance to the program's first state semi-final since 2010.

Lizzie Weems led the charge with 10 kills and 12 digs followed by NeNe Bosarge with six kills and 13 digs. Domonique Cole had five kills, 14 digs and 13 assists. Blakeleigh Lumpkin added five kills, 11 digs and 19 assists. Olivia Signaigo had four aces, five kills and 10 digs while Jadyne Sheppard had three kills and 12 digs.

Bay High head coach Kellie Gunn stated, "I am really excited for the girls. We had a packed gymnasium tonight full of students that we raised money for this past weekend so they could attend the game for free. Our superintendent, Dr. Sandra Reed, fed our team a home-cooked meal today before the game. It has been a whirlwind but I am really proud of our team and they earned this. Our defense at the net and in the back row were key tonight.

"The girls seemed to return everything hit at them."

The Lady Tigers (12-12) dropped their game with New Albany 12-25, 17-25, and 21-25 on Thursday afternoon to exit the state playoffs after making the Final Four in Class 4A.

kills and 43 aces while Sheppard tallied 66 aces and 47 kills. Gabby Hernandez had 66 aces.

New Albany will play two-time defending state champion Vancleave today at Mississippi State University at 1 p.m.

The Hancock Lady Hawks were eliminated from the Class 6A state playoffs on Tuesday evening by defending state champion Brandon 22-25, 13-25, and 19-25.

Hancock (21-15) was led by Reagan Huff with 10 kills and 10 digs followed by Kacey Lear with 17 digs and three aces and Peyton Russell with three blocks.

First-year Hancock head coach Lysie Byrd Gayden commented,

"After a few early runs made by Brandon, we had to play catch up, so the entire game was an uphill battle. We left it all on the floor. It just wasn't our night."

The Lady Hawks have a strong nucleus returning after graduating Isabella Scardino, Maesyn Cuevas, Emma Dau and Jenna Stallings.

Huff returns after collecting 430 kills and 389 digs along Russell who tallied 92 blocks on the season. Lear will also return in 2020 after totaling 460 digs while Klair Cuevas and Jacey Garriga return after posting 437 and 317 assist, respectively.

Gayden added, "It was an incredible first year for my assistant coach, Savannah Saucier, and I at Hancock. We didn't end our season quite how we wanted to, but the entire team grew astronomically as players and young ladies over the season. With this in mind, we can end the season with our heads held high. I wouldn't have wanted to experience my first season with anyone else, but these girls. I look forward to next year to see how the girls, Savannah and I all continue to grow to come back and fight towards a state title in 2020."

Clinton beat Brandon on Thursday and will take on Lewisburg for the Class 6A state championship at Mississippi State University on Saturday at 5 p.m.

Hood said in the release. "Recreational fishing has been damaged because of toxic algae blooms caused by the influx of fresh water. Coast beaches were closed to swimming during the height of the tourist season because of the age blooms. The full extent of the damage to Mississippi's environment and economy may not be known for years. And worse yet, repeated openings of the Bonnet Carré Spillway in 2019 and future years will likely cause more overall harm to Mississippi than the one-time BP Oil Spill."

According to the release, Hood has three goals for this lawsuit:

The first is to recover funds to compensate for the losses to the Mississippi Gulf Coast's economy and environment.

The second goal is to recover funds to "rebuild and rehabilitate the oysters reefs and other damaged marine habitat and populations."

Finally, Hood seeks to "limit future damage by directing the Corps to study the environmental impact of spillway openings on the Mississippi Sound and to adopt new procedures for flood control. The protocols for operating spillways are outdated, having been established in the 1930s and 1950s and do not address the present and future conditions of the Mississippi River."

"Our state is blessed with abundant seafood and beautiful beaches," Hood said in the release. "Many hard working Mississippians depend on fishing and tourism to make a living."

"For too long, Mississippi's interests have been ignored. If we do not take immediate action to require the Corps to change its approach to flood control and limit the use of the Bonnet Carré Spillway, these ways of life will be threatened. The AG is also working with the Secretary of State who serves as the State Land Commissioner to explore all options concerning damages to the Mississippi Gulf Coast. As we move forward, I intend to work closely with all stakeholders, including the Gulf Coast's county and municipal officials, along with the Institute for Marine Mammal Studies in Gulfport, to ensure that the Corps fully understands the damage caused to the Mississippi Sound."

According to the release, the lawsuit will seek relief under the "federal Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act, National Environmental Policy Act, Resource Conservation and Recovery Act, and contain other claims under federal law and Mississippi law."

sors, and Democrats should work with their Republican counterparts to create a fair process focused on the truth.

DUE PROCESS AND FUNDAMENTAL PROTECTIONS

When vital concepts like due process and equal justice under law are discarded, our constitutional system is endangered. The House needs to restore fundamental protections in order to regain trust.

The past gives clear guidance on how to do this. The full House of Representatives should vote prior to proceeding any further. The House should then afford the president the chance to hear all the accusations against him, call witnesses, and confront his accusers. During these proceedings, the Democratic majority should grant Republicans in the minority equal participation and authority to issue subpoenas. Following this framework would be a lot more likely to achieve an outcome that could be trusted. If the Democrats are confident in their case, they should make it in the light of day where the American people can see the evidence for themselves.

Plans

about one-third of Medicare beneficiaries have moved to MA plans, that strategy seems to be successful.

But does it come at a cost?

Serious questions have arisen about the overpayments the government has made using taxpayer dollars, overpayments that allow plans to offer gym memberships and even Apple Watches, monitoring devices, to new enrollees as one plan is doing. In September six Democratic senators wrote to Medicare noting that taxpayers have overpaid MA plans more than $30 billion over the last three years and that Medicare has "taken little to no action to correct" the overbilling and overpayments.

Even more troubling, the letter also says that several other government agencies such as the Office of the Inspector General have raised "serious concerns" about MA plans that fail to meet the needs of older adults and those with disabilities.

The letter raises questions about the kind of care beneficiaries are actually receiving and notes that Medicare's own audits have found "widespread and persistent Medicare Advantage performance problems related to denials of care and payment" that "threaten the health and safety of their members."

Those are government watchdogs raising a red flag about problems getting care when you're really sick and need good insurance.

Medicare Advantage plan advisers note that traditional Medicare does not put a limit on the amount a beneficiary must pay out of pocket each year while MA plans do – $6,700 for in-network providers and $10,000 for those out of network. They usually don't mention that a good Medigap policy will cover those amounts, but the premiums may be higher than for an MA plan heavily subsidized by the government.

The trade-off becomes what it does with all insurance: pay now in the form of higher premiums or pay later in the form of higher expenses if the worst happens.

Insurers seldom mention that tough trade-off when they host those informational meetings for shoppers.

A hungry crowd fills the Bay St. Louis Community Hall during last year's Ripple in the Bay.

Bay Rotary to feed the community, raise money for three different causes during "Ripple in the Bay" on Nov. 1

BY GEOFF BELCHER
NEWS EDITOR

The Rotary Club of Bay St. Louis will host "Ripple in the Bay" on Monday, Friday, Nov. 1, from 11 a.m.-1:30 p.m. at the Bay St. Louis Community Hall on Blaize Ave., feeding the community and raising money for three local organizations.

This year's feast -- billed as "One great meal flowing to three great causes" -- will be prepared and donated by the Silver Slipper.

"One hundred percent of the proceeds will benefit three great causes right here in our community," according to a Rotary Club statement issued this week, "the Hancock County Sheriff's Office K9 Unit, CASA of Hancock County and King's Kitchen."

Last year, Rotarians and other volunteers served more than 1,000 meals, feeding walk-in customers at the Bay St. Louis Community Hall and delivering hundreds of meals to businesses and home-bound people.

Many of the meals were considered part of the "Pay It Forward" pool, Rotary President Yuki Northington said, in which donors purchased the meals for someone else, such as first-responders and other charitable organizations.

The goal is to provide extra meals to people who often don't get the recognition they deserve and go above and beyond to serve the community; and to those who are sometimes under-served."

This year's menu will include chicken & sausage jambalaya, roll and bread pudding. Tickets are just $10 each and can be purchased at the door; at facebook.com/Rotary Club of Bay St. Louis; from any member of the Rotary Club of Bay St. Louis; or by calling Lisette at 228-304-5593.

SSC Rocks bury Vancleave Bulldogs 49-7

BY JOSEPH W. GEX, II
STAFF WRITER

The St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws and the Vancleave Bulldogs had to make adjustments for their crucial Division 8-4A contest this week due to severe weather that was moving into the area from the west on Friday. The two teams agreed to move their game to Thursday evening 'between the walls'.

It was Senior Night for the 15 gridiron seniors and five band members who were honored prior to the game along with their parents.

The Rocks (6-3, 2-1) wasted little time establishing what they planned to do in the game which was air the ball out.

Rock QB Max Favre hit a blazing Bradley Darby for a 56-yard scoring strike on the first play from scrimmage. Gene Hoffman converted on the PAT to make the score 7-0 and the rout was on.

The Rocks would score on four of their five first half possessions.

The SSC defense led by Hogan Benvenuti stuffed Vancleave and forced a punt.

SSC took over at the Vancleave 48 yard line. Favre hit Lee Negrotto for a 16-yard gain before Davien LaGarde broke free for 13 yards. Favre then hit Darby for 12 more before hooking up with Dallas Payne for a seven-yard scoring aerial with 7:45 left in the first half. The PAT by Hoffman made the score 14-0.

SSC senior WR Dallas Payne (#11) goes up high for the pass from Max Favre in the Rocks' 49-7 victory over the Vancleave Bulldogs on Thursday evening 'between the walls'. Payne had four catches for 76 yards and three touchdowns in the game.

An 11-play drive by Vancleave ended just past midfield where the Rocks took over. However, three incomplete passes forced a punt on the only possession of the half that SSC did not find the endzone.

The Rock defense forced another punt and SSC took over at the Bulldog 35 yard line. LaGarde ripped off 13 more yards to set the tone. Two plays later, Favre hit Payne for an eight-yard scoring toss with 9:08 left in the first half. Hoffman converted on the PAT to make the score 21-0.

With Vancleave having some success moving the ball, Grant Sides stepped in front of a Bulldog pass and picked it off near midfield.

It took SSC five plays to find paydirt. After a 12-yard gain by LaGarde, Favre hit Payne for 13 more to the 24 yard line.

Favre then hit LaGarde who raced past defenders for a 24-yard touchdown with 4:02 left in the half. Hoffman's PAT was good making the score 28-0 at intermission.

SSC kept up the pressure in the second scoring on their first possession when Favre hit Negrotto with a 10-yard scoring toss with 7:11 left in the third quarter. Hoffman's PAT was good pushing the score to 35-0.

Vancleave avoided the shutout on the ensuing possession when Christian Kell scored on a seven-yard keeper with 1:08 left in the third quarter. The PAT by Ashtin Tanner was good making the score 35-7.

Vancleave attempted an onsides kick that failed and the Rocks took over at midfield. Favre wasted little time regaining the momentum with a 50-yard scoring toss to Payne with 40 seconds left in the third quarter. Hoffman's PAT made the score 42-7.

On the ensuing possession, Vancleave had their best push on the field. Kell hit Devon Hand for a 44-yard pickup down to the Rock 15 yard line. However, two plays later Sides picked off his second pass by Kell at the Rock 18 yard line and returned it 82 yards for a touchdown with 9:53 left in the game. Eduardo Recinos converted on the PAT to make the final score 49-7.

SSC head coach Nate Encrapera commented, "Tonight, we executed offensively how we are capable of executing. On defense, we played well putting our offense in some very good situations. The attention to detail and playing more physical on defense has helped us play faster and we are managing space better. Grant Sides had a strong game in the defensive backfield. This week we have to get ready for a very tough rival in Pass Christian. It was be a dogfight between the two teams as these players on both sides have grown up knowing each other and playing against each other. It is always a battle and we will have to come ready to match their intensity."

The Rocks were led by Favre who was 11-for-19 passing for 241 yards and six touchdowns. Darby had three catches for 100 yards and a touchdown while Payne had four catches for 76 yards and three touchdowns. LaGarde rushed for 46 yards on four carries and had one catch for 24 yards and a touchdown.

The Rocks will make the short trip across the Bay of St. Louis to take on Pass Christian at McDonald Stadium. Game time is set for 7pm. See you at the game!

Hancock falls in overtime, 20-14

BY DWAYNE BREMER
CONTRIBUTING WRITER

An inspired comeback by the Hancock Hawks Friday fell just short as they lost 20-14 in overtime to the home-steady Harrison Central Red Rebels.

Hancock (3-6) was unable to do much offensively in the first half and Harrison Central took advantage to build a 14-0 lead headed into halftime.

Atavian Ray scored on an 18-yard run in the first quarter and Mikuam Sander scored on a six-yard run for the two Red Rebel touchdowns.

Midway through the third quarter, however, the Hawks began to show signs of life.

Taking over at their own seven, the Hawks drove 93 yards on 11 plays to cut the Red Rebel lead in half.

Sebastian Fausett had 46 yards rushing on the drive and quarterback Sema J Robertson had the touchdown honors with a 35-yard run on a fourth-down play.

Austin Hyde added the point after and with one minute to play in the quarter, the score was 14-7.

Hancock's defense then made a big play when Colby McGough caused a fumble that was recovered by Chandler Garcia inside the Hawks' 20.

The Hawks quickly moved into Red Rebel territory when Robertson connected with Jordan Zulli on a 35-yard catch-and-run.

A few plays later,

Robertson connected with Tyler Ahlers for 13 yards and another first down.

Three plays later, Fausett barreled into the end zone from seven yards out.

Hyde added the point-after to tie the game at 14-14 with 5:45 to play.

The Hawks defense forced a three-and-out when Devin Laneaux swatted away a pass and the Hawks took over at the 40 after a punt.

Hancock was able to move the ball to the Red

Rebel 32, but a long field-goal attempt with just nine seconds to play fell short.

Hancock took over first in overtime, but the Hawks were unable to score when Fausett was stuffed on a fourth-and-two-play.

Harrison Central then took over and D'Shawn McGaughey scored on a 15-yard run to end the game.

The Hawks will return home next Friday to take on the Biloxi Indians on Senior Night at Brett Favre Field.

SEA COAST ECHO

Pearl River Athletics Director Jeff Long announced today that head football coach Ted Egger will not return to lead the Wildcats in 2020.

"We appreciate Coach Egger and his staff for bringing stability to our program over the last three years," Long said. "We thank him for his efforts in leading our program and wish him the best in all of his future endeavors."

A native of Hornell, N.Y., Egger joined the PRCC staff as defensive coordinator and defensive backs coach in 2016 and took over the program in 2017 as the interim head coach. He posted a 5-4 record in '17 and was 2-7 in 2018 and 3-6 this season.

"I appreciate Dr. Breerwood and Pearl River for giving me the opportunity to lead the Wildcats," Egger said. "It has been a joy to lead this program and I want to thank the community and players for everything."

A search to find PRCC's next head coach will begin immediately.

Pass loses to Tigers on last-second kick, 31-28

BY HUNTER DAWKINS
THE GAZEBO GAZETTE

With the end of the season and play-off seeding hanging in the balance, the Pass Christian Pirates on Friday dropped a close match-up against district rival Moss Point 31-28 on a last-second 27-yard field goal.

The Pirates (6-3, 2-1) lost their first district game and next week's match against cross-town rival St. Stanislaus will decide if Pass Christian hosts its third-overall playoff game in the Mississippi High School Activities Association (MHSAA).

Due to inclement weather on Friday, the murky scenery of Dantzler Stadium in Moss Point posed difficulties in the first quarter for both teams.

Neither team made it to the end zone in the first quarter, but the Pirates quickly lit up the scoreboard in the second after forcing a turnover on downs.

Pass Christian Senior quarterback Dustin Allison found a reliable target in senior receiver Andrew Moffett for a 63-yard touchdown strike. After kicker Davon Klein converted his first of four extra points with 10:55 left in the half, the score was Pass Christian 7-0.

The Tigers scored a few possessions later and the Pirates answered on a nine-play drive where Allison found Pass Christian receiver Kameron White with 1:21 left. When the kick went through the uprights, the score went back to the Pirates leading 14-7.

Unfortunately, the Pirates could not keep the Tigers off the scoreboard before the half. The game was tied at halftime at 14 all.

As in the first quarter, neither team scored in the third. After a Moss Point touchdown in the fourth, the Pirates blocked the extra point, the ncountered with a nine-yard pass from Allison to runningback Huu Nguyen for a score and extra point, putting the lead back in their hands 21-20.

The Tigers then came alive, scoring on a 27-yard touchdown pass and a two-point conversion to go up 28-21, but the Pirates never gave up the fight.

One last time, Allison found Moffett for a 60-yard touchdown and extra point with 5:20 left to tie the game.

Moss Point drove the ball inside the red zone and chipped in the 27-yard field goal with no time left.

"When you get in these close matchups, there is a limited margin of error," said Blake Pennock, Pass High football coach. "We have to respond better and take advantage of out opportunities better."

Holy Trinity Collaborates with SSC for MS Farm to School Network Challenge

SEA COAST ECHO

For the second year, Holy Trinity has participated in the MS Farm to School Network Challenge.

According to the website mississippifarmtoschool.org, the Mississippi Farm to School Network works to connect farmers with schools in order to bring Mississippi products to school cafeterias. Though the goal of the challenge is to bring awareness to the importance of locally-grown agricultural foods, you won't find many farms in the coastal region of Mississippi, so the challenge this year became a little more difficult. In the coastal region, our type of farmers work with the delicacies of the sea. Keeping all of that in mind, Holy Trinity focused on seafood caught, or farmed, locally, specifically shrimp. To learn more about our local shrimp, we called upon the knowledge of the St. Stanislaus Marine Science Interns under the leadership of Mrs. Letha Boudreaux.

As students moved throughout stations, students learned facts and experienced hands-on activities. For the first station, intern Ethan Favre was in charge of a live tank display that had juvenile species of white shrimp and grass shrimp that had recently been caught using seine nets and cast nets in the Bay of St. Louis.

Students were able to observe the natural behavior of shrimp, like burrowing in the sand, and how they use their adaptations to feel out their environment. Students could also view an illustration of the life cycle of a shrimp to emphasize the importance of our estuaries, like Bay St. Louis, in the development of juvenile shrimp species.

The second station was with intern Noah Theriot. He taught the kids all about the shrimp that live in the Gulf of Mexico that we do not eat. They learned about Tiger shrimp (an invasive species), where they came from and how they got here. They also learned about the Mantis shrimp and its capability to break open shells with its modified feeding appendage. Grass shrimp were also talked about, focusing on how to identify them and how they carry their eggs. There was also a live Coral Banded shrimp to observe.

At the third station, intern Drew West focused on the differences between three main species of shrimp that are caught commercially (and recreationally) in our area. Specifically, he taught students how to identify the white, brown, and pink shrimp.

He also explained where they could find these shrimp species, as well as which ones they are most likely to eat. Intern Jackson Thriffiley led the fourth station and taught students how to tell the difference between male and female shrimp.

A preserved crawfish, which is a relative of shrimp, was used to physically show them the difference between males and females. Station five allowed intern Cameron Baehr to talk to students about the different types of equipment used at SSC to catch shrimp, like the cast net and seine net. He also talked to students about the commercial shrimping industry and used illustrations to explain how shrimp boats and their trawl nets work.

Station six intern Hogan Benvenuti taught students about brine shrimp, a zooplankton species, and their role in the food chain. Hogan also had recently hatched brine shrimp under a microscope for students to observe. Intern Seth Cook gave the students a brief description of how we collect plankton, using plankton nets, and then explained the importance of plankton as a food source for our shrimp species at station seven. Students learned that what the shrimp eat will determine how the shrimp will taste to us! Students were then able to observe live plankton samples under a microscope. For station eight, Mrs. Boudreaux introduced students to the relatives of shrimp and explained some of their shared adaptations, like exoskeletons and molting. Students were able to see, and touch, the molts of blue crabs, deep-sea isopods, hermit crabs and horseshoe crabs. Students were also able to observe preserved crustacean species.

Thanks to a generous donation of shrimp from Mr. Kendall Marquar of Pinchers Seafood in Lakeshore, we finished our study of coastal farming by having delicious Shrimp Alfredo for lunch in our cafeteria. It was quite a treat for everyone!

Pumpkin Spice and Everything Nice

BY LINDA BIGLER
CONTRIBUTING WRITER

It is finally that time of year when all the pumpkin spice fanatics can celebrate their favorite pumpkin creations. It seems as if pumpkin spice can be found in almost anything including bagels, beer, coffee, popcorn, pop tarts, and breakfast cereals. There was a rumor circulating that there even was a pumpkin spice toilet paper. I am sorry to rain on that bit of Facebook fantasy, but there is no such product. Well, at least not yet, I am sure it is just a matter of time and demand.

While we wait for more pumpkin spice products to flood the market, allow me to share a few ordinary pumpkin recipes with you, sans toilet paper.

Pumpkin Soup
4 tablespoons butter
1 large onion, peeled and chopped
2 cloves garlic, peeled and minced

1 teaspoon curry powder
One half teaspoon freshly grated nutmeg
One half teaspoon ground ginger
One fourth teaspoon ground cloves
2 cups canned pumpkin
1 teaspoon salt
3 cups chicken broth
2 cups half-and-half
Melt the butter in a Dutch oven over medium heat. Add the onions and sauté for about three minutes or until onions are soft. Add the garlic and sauté an additional minute. Stir in the curry powder, nutmeg, ginger, and cloves. Sauté an additional 2 minutes to allow the spices to bloom. Stir in the pumpkin, salt, and chicken broth. Stir constantly until smooth and the mixture comes to a boil. Lower to a simmer and stir in the half-and-half; heat through. Serve immediately.
Serves 6 to 8

Chocolate Chip Pumpkin Cookies
1 stick (one half cup) butter, softened
1 cup light brown sugar, tightly packed
Three fourths cup white sugar
1 cup canned pumpkin
1 egg
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
One half teaspoon freshly ground nutmeg
One fourth ground cloves
1 and one-fourth cups all-purpose flour
1 and one-half teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
One half teaspoon baking soda
three fourths cup quick-cooking oats
1 cup chopped toasted pecans
1 cup dried cranberries
1 cup chocolate chips, semisweet or milk chocolate
Preheat the oven to 375 degrees

Cream together the butter and sugars until combined. Add the pumpkin, egg, cinnamon, nutmeg, and cloves. Beat until smooth. Combine the flour, salt, baking powder, and baking soda; add to the pumpkin mixture and stir until well combined, do not over mix. Fold in the remaining ingredients. Line cookie sheets with parchment paper or light grease the sheets. Using a teaspoon, drop the cookie dough onto the prepared cookie sheets. Bake for 12 to 15 minutes. Cool cookies on a wire rack.
Makes about 6 dozen.
Pumpkin Carrot Cake
2 cups all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
One half teaspoon baking soda
One fourth teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons finely grated orange peel
3 eggs, lightly beaten
1 and one-half cups light brown sugar, packed

1 cup canned pumpkin
Two thirds cup vegetable oil
One fourth cup whole milk
1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract
One half teaspoon orange extract
1 cup finely shredded carrots
1 cup chopped toasted pecans
Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Grease a 13x9 inch baking pan and line with parchment paper. Combine the flour, baking powder, baking soda, salt, and orange peel; set aside.
In a medium bowl combine the eggs and brown sugar. Stir in the pumpkin, oil, milk, and extracts. Stir in the carrots and pecans. Add the flour mixture to the pumpkin mixture and stir with a wooden spoon until all ingredients are combined. Pour the batter into the prepared pan and bake for about 30 minutes, or until cake tests done. Cool on a wire rack and top with the frosting.

Orange Cream Cheese Frosting:
3 cups powdered sugar
3 ounces cream cheese, softened
6 tablespoons butter, softened
1 tablespoon orange juice
1 teaspoon orange extract
1 teaspoon vanilla
Combine all ingredients, mix with an electric mixer until smooth. Frost the top of the cooled cake.
Serves 10 to 12
Enjoy the pumpkin spice season while it lasts and ignore the Christmas decorations in the stores until at least November first.

Meet Harry. This uniquely handsome boy is a 2 year old American Staffordshire Terrier/German Shepherd mix with the most expressive face and a superb personality to match. Harry is a very well mannered fella who sits on command, especially for treats. He walks like a gentleman on a leash and harness, and our kennel techs have observed that he keeps his kennel clean. Harry is very affectionate and loves to give appreciative doggie kisses. He has made friends with the other dogs in his living area, and he seems oblivious to our shelter kitties. (But he does like to snack on cat treats!)

As Harry is a relatively new intake, he has yet to meet any children here at the shelter. So, please bring the kids along for a meet-n-greet with this sweet boy. You are welcome to bring your family dog(s) to the meeting as well. We think Harry would be a wonderful addition to any family, large or small. Come by the shelter, 7175 Texas Flat Rd, Kiln, to meet Harry, and you will see why we adore this goofy pooch. Call 466 4516 for more information, and visit our Facebook page, Hancock County Animal Shelter, MS, to see more pictures of Harry and of the many other wonderful, adoptable dogs looking for their forever homes.

THE OLD HAUNTED HOUSE

In the grid above, there's room for six words pertaining to the haunted house. The following definitions should help:
1. They live in the house.
2. Noises you hear in the house.
3. Type of passages in the house.
4. What you might hear in the house.
5. What might block your way.
6. Coldest, darkest part of the house.
There is a dark frame around one of the columns in our grid. If you correctly solve the puzzle, the letters in the frame, top to bottom, will spell out what you "feel" at midnight in the house.

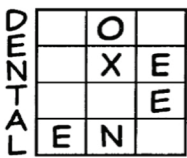

Answers: 1. Ghosts. 2. Creaks. 3. Secret. 4. Scream. 5. Cobweb. 6. Cellar. The dark frame column spells "Terror."

CONNECT THE DOTS! My name has three letters. Take away two and my name's the same. What am I?

Answers: Tea.

Illustrated by David Coulson

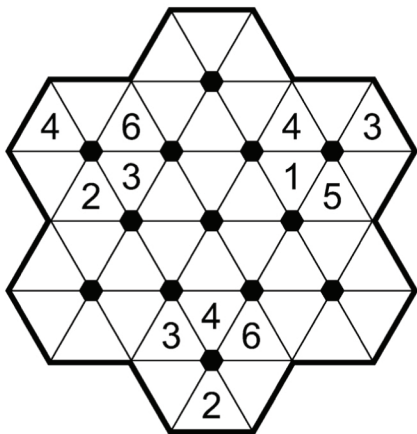

FIND THE SEVEN WORDS PUZZLE! In the Word Square at the right, we've removed six of the letters to spell out the word "DENTAL." See if you can replace these letters in the square so that you will have four three-letter words across and three four-letter words down. The time limit is 60 seconds.

Answers: (Across) Ton, axe, lee, end. (down) Tale, oxen, need.

SNOWFLAKES

by Japheth Light

There are 13 black hexagons in the puzzle. Place the numbers 1 - 6 around each of them. No number can be repeated in any partial hexagon shape along the border of the puzzle.

Each numbered row contains two clues and two 6-letter answers. The two answers differ from each other by only one letter, which has already been inserted. For example, if you exchange the A from MASTER for an I, you get MISTER. Do not change the order of the letters.

SEEING THROUGH THE EYES OF A CHILD

BY GARY ANDREWS
GARY@GADEVOTIONALS.COM

Viewing the world through the eyes of a child would make this world a much better place to live in. It would be a safe place, no problems, everyone is happy, and everything works out for the good of all people. It's also a place of truth and imagination.

Not long ago my granddaughter was given the task of pretending to be someone that lived 100 years ago.

She is only five years old and goes to preschool and her teacher is trying to relate how different things are today than they were back then. She promptly told her mother about the project and they decided she would dress as a lady of 100 years ago.

Without hesitation and with as much honesty as a child can muster she told her mother that she could dress as her grandmother does now.

Of course her grandmother doesn't dress in attire of 100 years ago but to this child she could see the difference of dress between an older adult and the young frilly things children wear today.

I have often wondered if our views and perception changes as we grow older and become more mature. I know it does and it is a shame that we lose some of that youthful luster we enjoyed until it comes a time when we put away childish behavior and images to accept reality.

The brilliance and imagination of a child are tremendous traits that no one should ever lose for the truth and honesty in them are never tainted and misrepresented.

When we grow older our vision and perception of people and objects vary to the situation that comes with them. Many of us tend to add or take away crucial parts of a problem or memory and not give a complete truthful glimpse of what really is. We tend to tell people what we want them to know or hear without thinking about the consequences that could come at a later date.

This happens to all of us. None of us will ever give a perfect synopsis of any factual event or happening and it doesn't matter how hard we try to do this.

Many of us will tell the truth as we know it however two people can look at the problem and give different variations of how and why it happened.

As Christians we tell people that the only way to get to heaven is through the shed blood of Jesus Christ. This is what the Bible tells us and for me, the Bible is the gospel truth and the inerrant word of God.

Many will dispute these words however if you are a Christian and know Jesus as your personal Savior you will agree.

Our children, as truthful and straight forward as they are, should be examples for us when we grow into our adult years. Jesus said of the children in Matthew 19:14, Jesus said, "Let the little children come to me, and do not hinder them, for the kingdom of heaven belongs to such as these."

Even as my granddaughter thought her grandmother dressed as those of 100 years ago we should never discourage them in their imagination.

She knew there was a difference in her dress style and her grandmother's, so why not think of it being older that it really is. They did wear clothes a 100 years ago but one thing hasn't changed at all in the past years and that is that Jesus died so we could live with Him in Heaven.

Prayer: Father thank you for loving me so much that you gave your life for all of my sins.

Thank you for your saving grace and mercy. Amen.

United Way of South Mississippi announces Nifty 50 Raffle winner

SEA COAST ECHO
Stephanie Mueller of Gulfport is the winner of United Way of South Mississippi's $50,000 Nifty 50 raffle.
Mueller's winning ticket was pulled during the raffle drawing on Oct. 24 at Patio 44 Coastal Seafood & Steaks in Gulfport. Sixty-eight other prizes, donated by local businesses, were also given away.
The raffle drawing was broadcast live on the organization's Facebook page, and the grand prize was presented live during the 6:30 p.m. broadcast on WLOX-TV. Tickets for the raffle, which were $100, were on sale between Aug. 22 and Oct. 21.
Funds raised from the raffle, which is in its second year, will be reinvested into the community through its community impact grants. The organization, which serves Hancock, Harrison, Pearl River and Stone counties, recently granted $650,000 to 11 area nonprofits who work in the areas of education, financial stability and health.
In addition to the community impact grants, UWSM awards short-term emergency and emerging needs grants. The organization also organizes many community programs, including PreK4Ward, a kindergarten prep program; the familywise prescription savings card; Fill the Bus, an annual school supply drive; the Dolly Parton's Imagination Library book program; and free tax preparation services.
These grants and programs are made possible by generous donors, said UWSM CEO Kathy Springer.
"Our communities support us in amazing ways, from individual and corporate gifts to buying tickets for the Nifty 50 raffle," she said. "Without that support, we wouldn't be able to offer any of our grants or programs."
Springer said she is already looking forward to the third annual raffle, which will kick off in August 2020.

Pass Christian Elementary School Joins the Statewide Literacy Movement of “Mississippi Reads One Book”

SEA COAST ECHO

Pass Christian Elementary School is taking part in a state-wide literacy initiative, Mississippi Reads One Book, which is an all-school book club.

During the next few weeks, every PCES student and PCES family will be reading the same chapter book at the same time, The World According to Humphrey by Betty Birney!

This is a special time for families to spend together reading along or with their child. The aim is to build a community of readers and to promote literacy among everyone - students, parents, teachers, administrative staff and even community stakeholders!

Mayor McDermott stopped by PCES last week to film a reading of the 5th chapter for the students! Businesses and community stakeholders throughout the city of Pass Christian are also showing their support of this project by displaying The World According to Humphrey posters in their business to spark even more excitement and anticipation for the students, teachers, and families of PCES!

The students will explore the book in class through activities, discussion and trivia questions. During this all-school book club, students will actively be on the look-out daily for the hidden Humphrey on the PCES campus!

City of Waveland seeking veteran participation for Veteran’s Day parade on November 10

BY CASSANDRA FAVRE
STAFF WRITER

The city of Waveland is hosting a Veteran's Day Parade and is seeking participation from local veterans.

Parade coordinator Kristen Tusa said the event is scheduled for Sunday, Nov. 10 at 1 p.m. on Coleman Avenue.

"For many years, brave men and women have served our country, making many sacrifices to protect our freedoms, and we want to honor and celebrate these men and women for their service and sacrifices," Tusa said. "The reason the parade is on a Sunday is that we want all youth members of our community to have an opportunity to not only participate or attend the parade but to learn civic pride. Our hope is that they will be members of the community who will carry on this tradition."

Tusa said that veterans can choose to walk or ride in the parade.

The parade will begin at Waveland's Public Library and end at the Veteran's Memorial, she said. The goal is also to host a brief ceremony to honor veterans, she added.

Tusa asks that veterans complete a parade entry form — which can be found at www.seacoastecho.com or by contacting Tusa at kristentusa@gmail.com.

The deadline to participate is Nov. 1.
